Why Designers Use It:

Designers are drawn to #AFE2BB because of its versatile and soothing appearance, making it ideal for a wide range of applications. This color is particularly popular in the wellness, environmental, and home decor industries. Its calming tone is also favored in healthcare, spas, and eco-conscious branding. #AFE2BB has a broad appeal due to its connection to nature, reminiscent of fresh greenery, which brings a sense of freshness and renewal to designs. It pairs well with other soft tones, such as light blues or neutrals, making it a staple in interior design and branding for products aimed at comfort and relaxation. Though relatively neutral, the color maintains a strong presence without being overpowering, which is why it's frequently used in spaces that require a calm atmosphere without feeling cold or sterile.
